PREFACE.

1275729

NO work is more suited to perpetuate the fame and traditions of an ancient school, and to foster the spirit of brotherhood among the succeeding generations of its alumni, than a Register recording the proud distinctions or the humble achievements of those who have had the honour of belonging to it. To do this effectually a register ought to be complete in all its parts, from the first day the school opened its doors; and it is evident that such a work could only be the result of a continuous purpose, coeval with the school itself. Unfortunately that task has been deferred from century to century, and has become harder in proportion to its long postponement. But is this a reason why it should not at length be attempted? As the usefulness, or, to speak more correctly, the necessity of such an undertaking has in these latter times become more and more apparent at Derby School, and as procrastination only makes matters worse, the editor decided some years ago to face the difficulty and see what could be done.

Now, considering that prior to 1865, and with the exception of a bare list of the names of the pupils between 1843 and 1858, there was no register of any kind kept at the School, it looked like a hopeless task. However, one by one, a fairly complete list of the scholars under Dr. Fletcher (1834-1843) and Dr. Leary (1858-1865) was got together with the valuable assistance of several old Derbeians, some of whom, we regret to say, have since joined the majority.

As for the more remote period (1570-1834), it has been necessary to go further afield. All available sources have been drawn upon: College admission registers (both of Oxford and Cambridge), biographical notices, pedigrees, memoirs, town records, etc., have all been laid under contribution and have yielded a tolerably abundant harvest, which has been still further enriched by personal information from various county gentlemen respecting some of their ancestors.

Nor have the names been forgotten that are carved on the walls and panels of the old Grammar School in S. Peter's Churchyard, many of which had to be recovered from under accumulated layers of paint and whitewash.

In this way several hundreds of old Derbeians have been rescued from the oblivion into which they had drifted; but how many hundreds more are there who have not been reclaimed? It is to be hoped that future researches and discoveries will add to their list. In the meantime, if the object of this Register, fragmentary as it is, has been reached—namely, to perpetuate the memory of the dead, and impress upon the living Derbeians the fact that, wherever they may be, their old School is not indifferent to their acta et gesta—this will be the most acceptable reward which the editor could desire for the trouble this work has entailed upon him.

There will necessarily be inaccuracies and omissions in these records; all corrections and additions will, therefore, be gratefully received in view of making a second edition as complete as possible.

Lastly, the editor begs to return his most cordial acknowledgments to the late J. Tilley, Esq., Author of "The Old Halls, Manors, and Families of Derbyshire"; J. B. Peace, Esq., M.A., Bursar of Emmanuel College, Cambridge; R. F. Scott, Esq., M.A., Senior Bursar of St. John's College, Cambridge; Prof. J. Cook Wilson, M.A., Fellow of New College, Oxford; Sir George R. Sitwell, Bart., Renishaw Hall; Rev. E. D. Heathcote, M.A., London; J. Borough, Esq., J.P., Belper; H. F. Gadsby, Esq., Derby; Lt.-Col. W. H. Stokes, Liverpool; Dr. E. B. Wrench, Baslow; W. S. Ward, Esq., Nottingham; E. Jukes, Esq., Barrister, London; Rev. J. M. J. Fletcher, M.A., Tideswell, and many others, for their kind assistance at various epochs of this Register.

EXPLANATIONS.

Mr. or Esq.—It will be noticed that various courtesy titles, such as “Esq.,” “gent.,” etc., occur in the older period of the Register. These are quotations. In the more recent times (from 1834 downwards) they have been omitted. The alternation between Mr. and Esq., as it occurs in some Registers, forms an invidious distinction which it is not in everybody’s power to establish by a hard and fast rule; besides, the lavish use of the “Esq.” has nowadays made this title practically so meaningless that it is no great hardship to forego it.

Dates between inverted commas are copied from inscriptions; dates between brackets refer to the years a pupil was at School.

Square Brackets, in the older part of the Register, enclose surnames which may eventually help towards the identification of the respective Old Derbeians.

b. = born. d. = dead. * before a name denotes a boarder.

Athletics are recorded side by side with other distinctions. An endeavour was made to keep these separate, but it has not been found practicable. And, indeed, why should they be divided? Sports alternate and intermingle daily with School and College life; it is therefore quite natural that athletic distinctions should be recorded chronologically with scholastic and other achievements. The Sports accounts being wanting in various years, the editor apologises for any unavoidable omissions which may be noticed during those respective periods. The dates generally refer to the first year a Derbeian played or rowed for his School—or, owing to the lack of records, is known to have done so.

B. IV. = 1st Boat. Wimb. R. Team = Wimbledon Rifle Team.

F. XI. = 1st Football Eleven. C. XI. = 1st Cricket Eleven.

The various successes of the School Crews and Teams will be accounted for in a special chapter of “The History of Derby School.”

Scholp. = Scholarship. Exh. = Exhibition.

O.D. = Old Derbeian.
